

STOP THE RACE ATTACKS

ANOTHER WHITE BOY lies in a coma close to death on a life support machine because the politicians have forced an unworkable policy of multi-racialism upon our country, forcing people of vastly different racial and religious backgrounds to live together cheek by jowl with all the resulting social instability and violence that entails.

Little Daniel Moore aged 12 was attacked by a gang of 20 racist Asians armed with bricks, bottles and lumps of wood. He had been playing football with two friends when the 20 older youths chased after the three and attacked them screaming "You pieces of white trash." Poor 12-year-old Daniel couldn't get away and stood no chance as the 20 battered him half to death with their weapons and their boots.

His friend said: "They chased us and caught Daniel. They hit him with the bricks and bottles. He was covered in blood, holding his head and groaning." A neighbour, Mr. Downes said: "I could see he was covered in blood. It was on his face, shirt and he was moaning, crying and holding his head. He had a deep gash in his head, a deep black cut. He was being sick, moaning and holding his stomach and trying to curl up into a ball. The police picked up half a brick covered in blood."

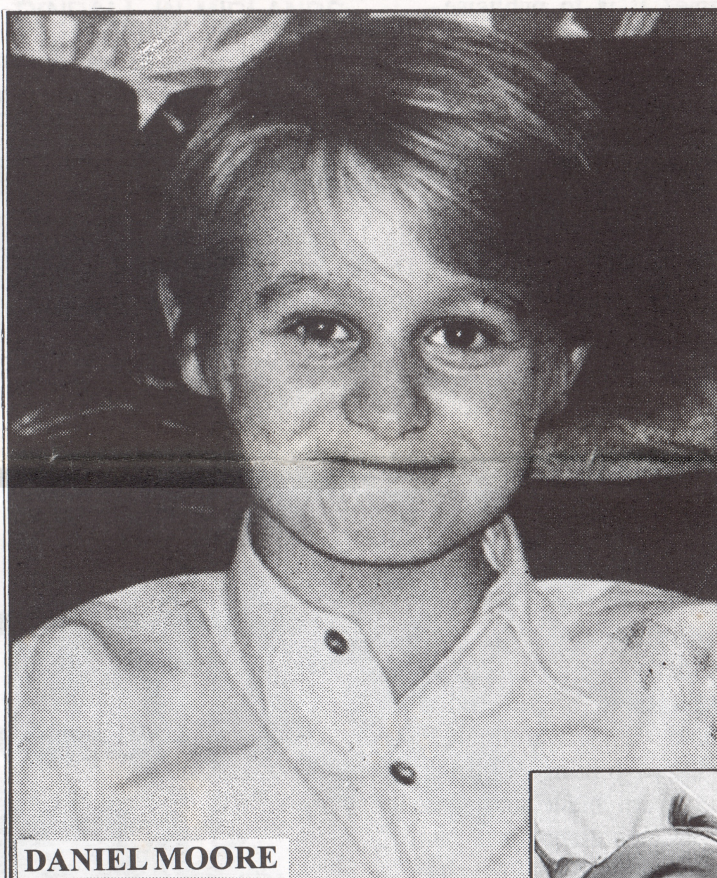

Since then, Daniel has been sent to the children's hospital at Great Ormond Street. Two blood clots have been removed from his brain, but he is still in a coma. Tubes and wires connect him to life support machines and his head has been shaved for surgery. Daniel's sister Kelly said: "His entire head is covered in bandages. His body is badly bruised where the thugs kicked him as he lay helpless on the ground. The surgeon has said that Daniel's brain has suffered serious swelling"

While the police are treating the attack as attempted murder, incredibly DS Bob Moffat said despite the racial nature of the attack: "My belief is the attack was not racially motivated."

One theory has been touted to excuse the cowardly attack by saying that an older white man had previously caused a group of Asian youths some offence and so they called for reinforcements before all 20 attacked little Daniel. So that's OK then! This kind of mealy mouthed talk aids and abets the cowardly racists who have attacked Daniel and half killed him screaming 'white trash'. It wouldn't be acceptable if whites had attacked an Asian boy and it's not acceptable now. In the meantime, these cowardly Asian racists must be brought to book and sent down for the rest of their lives.

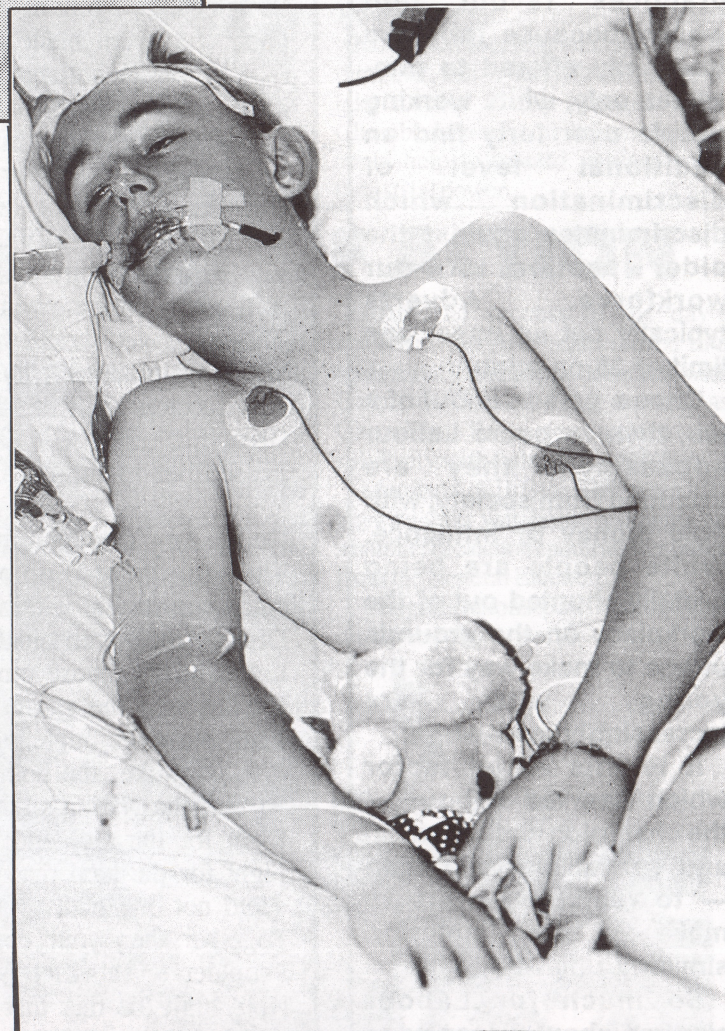

While the media, for once, did give this attack some publicity, there was not the same media howl that accompanies any outrage perpetrated upon a non-white. Crucially, there was not the linking of this attack to any others and which show a definite trend of racial attacks against whites.

Only in June a little 8-year-old boy was racially attacked in Halifax by three Asians aged between 16 and 18. He was kicked, beaten and sprayed with lighter fuel, set alight and left to suffer. At the same time in London, fifteen white boys playing football aged 14-16 were attacked by 20 older Asians armed with knives, bottles, chains and axes. More Asians joined in to make sure that the boys could not escape and horrific injuries were inflicted. These items rated barely a mention in local newspapers and did not even make it to the dailies. And these ethnically inspired attacks against whites are only the tip of the iceberg as they are on the increase all over the country, yet there is a conspiracy of silence in the media. Are only non-white victims of concern? Last year Gareth Wilshaw, like Daniel Moore, was left in a coma as three racist blacks stamped on his head screaming "White bastard." Also last year no less than FOUR whites were murdered simply because of the colour of their skin: Christopher Farrell, Andrew Steventon, Mark Sharp and Danny Westmacott. Yet Britain's media carefully omits mention of these, the only victim we are allowed to hear about is Stephen Lawrence. And yet these whites join a long list of others who have also been quietly murdered with no media outcry: Richard Everett, Catherine Ayling, Philip Lawrence, Terry May, Paul Carter, Albert Marriner, Michael Dooher, Gary Wilmer, Philip Gosling and so many others. Why will no one speak up for the white victims of racial violence? Why is it that anti-white racist thugs and murderers are not routinely condemned by the media? Don't white victims count? Is the BNP the only group speaking up for white people and against the violence? It seems so, but you'll not be reading that in your establishment-controlled news media.

WHITES FACE NEW RACISM IN JOBS

While the economy continues to decline with no prospect of help from the establishment parties, another subplot unfolds itself: The impoverishment of the real British by anti-white racism in the jobs market.

As good jobs become scarcer and the competition for them heats up, one of the little noticed discriminatory practices against white people has become evident: Age discrimination. Of course, not all middle-aged and elderly people are white and ethnic minority individuals suffer as well as whites. Yet it remains a fact that the age profiles of ethnic groups in Britain mean that ethnic minorities have a higher proportion of their people in younger age categories owing to their higher birthrates. Whites, on the other hand, have a more even age distribution thus making the real British unfairly discriminated against not just in terms of sheer numbers, but also in terms of the old as a proportion of their respective ethnic group.

When employment practices favour non whites because jobs are frequently offered to non-whites only, white working people over forty find an additional level of discrimination which discriminates against the older section of our workforce. Adverts typically put an upper age limit of 35 on a job.

Once a person is out of a job, then to quote Labour spokesmen, they are excluded from society, with little money or influence. White people are being brutally shunted out of the workplace on the grounds of age to make way for the young, who are increasingly non-white.

It is this racial factor which has led Labour — the champion against racial and sexual discrimination — to resist attempts to make age discrimination similarly unlawful.

So much for Labour claptrap about 'decency' in our society. Only the BNP will safeguard the rights of white working men and women.

BATTLE FOR FREE SPEECH, LIBERTY AND FREEDOM

The state prosecution of BNP members Nick Griffin and Paul Ballard for writing items displeasing to the state trundles on. But any hope that they'd go quietly has faded. Nick has spoken about the case at BNP meetings all over Britain and the case is being publicised in party publications and on the party's Internet site. Other campaigners for free speech across the world are showing support by mirroring the BNP's own Home Page on their own Websites.

The 'Carlile Two' are determined to turn the tables on the repressive swine who decide who has and who does not have the right to freedom of speech (the short answer is that if you agree their politics you do, and if you disagree then you don't). Who will be next to have their freedoms and democratic human rights taken away from them? Who will be thrown into jail next for a thought crime? It is to publicise these abuses of human rights that a fax campaign around the world is to be mounted to publicise the case in other countries and to highlight Britain's repressive regime. It's a poor joke when Foreign Secretary Robin Cook tours the world lecturing foreigners on human rights when back home, his own government is preparing to throw its own dissidents into prison.

Needless to say, the Carlile Two will not be silenced and plans are afoot to make this so-called trial one that the government will regret. Expert witnesses are to be flown into Britain and publicity materials produced to get the case over to a wider audience. All kinds of new ideas will be used to generate publicity for the case so that the government cannot pursue its totalitarianism without challenge. All of this, however, will cost money. Please give what you can to fund this defence which will publicise the party and its stance for freedom. One way of doing this is to purchase Nick Griffin's police interview tape which lets the whole farce out of the bag. Please send a minimum donation of £7, payable to the 'Carlile Two defence fund' to: Nick Griffin c/o PO. Box 117, Welling, Kent DA16 3DW.

The BNP will be upholding the freedom of every man and woman to say exactly what they think on any issue. Total freedom of speech. The BNP is the Freedom Party!

LABOUR SEX AND THUGGERY

Ex-Labour Mayoress, Carolyn Dower knocked out Plaid Cymru councillor Pauline Jarman at a dinner and karaoke evening. The case at Cardiff Crown Court heard Jarman say that Dower made V-signs at the Plaid councillors and called them "scum."

Jarman said that she walked over to Dower and said: "If you've got anything to say, say it to my face," whereupon Dower knocked her to the floor.

●Peter Mandelson's former election agent and Hartlepool councillor, Bernard Carr has been charged by police with committing an act of gross indecency with a teenage boy. He was arrested in a public toilet.

●Former Labour Deputy Mayor of Mirfield and councillor Ray Smith was found guilty by Bradford Crown Court of assaulting Thomas Hamilton in a pub by grabbing his groin and squeezing his testicles.

Smith who had been ordering whiskies and lager every 20 minutes for 3½ hours pleaded guilty to common assault. An indecency charge has been left on file.

ANTI-RACISM MAKES IT WORSE

The anti-racist drive across the country has alienated large sections of white youth who have witnessed the preferential treatment given to non-whites. Dr. Roger Hewitt, a London University researcher has found that decades of anti-racism have created a backlash from whites against the multi-racial system.

Young whites have seen the world of work blatantly discriminating against whites with 'Black or Asian only' adverts. They have seen non-white pupils receive extra help and resources from teachers and teachers have been seen to lean over backward in schools to be anti-racist. So much so that white pupils feel that in any dispute with an Asian or Black pupil, they no longer get a fair hearing.

RACE-MIXING TALE 1

Two British women have belatedly woken up to the dangers of race-mixing. Margaret Wright and Sharon Jallow holidayed in Gambia, West Africa and stupidly married two Africans. Margaret married in a mud hut compound and returned to Britain to nurse her sick mum. Bojang accompanied her and waited until he got citizenship then disappeared. Silly Margaret said: "He just used me." No kidding! Margaret tracked him down from her home in Hartlepool to Crawley. There, she met Sharon who had exactly the same thing done to her by a Mr. Amouda.

RACE COUNCIL — WASTE OF MONEY

Auditors called in by Bedfordshire County Council to investigate Bedford Racial Equality Council (BREC) have issued a report saying that the £550,000 spent by Bedford taxpayers in the last three years has been a total waste of money. BREC boss Buddev Pandaya has been sacked for sexual harassment of all his female staff. The Auditors discovered 'a lack of financial procedures in place.' New BREC boss Indranil Ray admits that BREC has been a waste of money for the last seven years.

BN has reported similar scandals in June and July, when BN revealed that Bury Racial Equality Council and Calderdale REC were both corrupt and self-serving. No real surprise there, in fact the only surprise is that people up and down the country haven't objected more strongly and got their local meddling REC's funding shut off.

WHAT PRIVATISATION MEANS FOR THE RAILWAYS

In the latest disaster to befall Britain's rail network 7 people have died and more than 160 have been injured in one of the worst rail crashes in Britain's history. The Great Western 125 Swansea to Paddington express ploughed into a goods train at 90 miles per hour at Southall station, West London just a few minutes from its destination.

Rail privatisation has been an unmitigated disaster. It was obvious to all but the cretinous that hiving off British Rail into separate companies all working for profit would see falling safety standards and fragmentation of the rail network.

As a result different companies own the rolling stock, track, signalling equipment and stations. In fact, BR has been split into more than 100 different companies. Passengers can no longer buy straight through tickets from their local stations to anywhere in the UK and when they do buy tickets, a multiplicity of choices leads to confusion and great variation in price. None of the promises before privatisation have been kept and services and safety have suffered.

As is usual with any big travel company which attempts to blame its pilot or train driver, suspicion was immediately placed on the driver — but he went voluntarily to a police interview and passed a drink and drugs test. The driver of the goods train has also been cleared. The continued suspicion of deteriorating safety standards in order to satisfy profit and dividend considerations will no doubt only be born out after the official enquiry, but BN along with a majority of the public is in no doubt that cost considerations have had their effect on safety and lives have again been lost.

It is now known that the Automatic Safety Warning (ASW) system was non-functioning on the crashed train before it left Swansea. The ASW system is separate from the Automatic Train Protection System (ATP), another back-up safety device. Great Western have declined to say whether the ATP was working either.

The wreckage of privatisation: seven lives lost and dozens injured. Safety compromised to boost the dividend Railtrack, another possible culprit and which earns £1 million profits per day, has been heavily criticised for under-spending on its maintenance programme. The shortfall was then payed out in shareholder dividends!

The BNP has never been doctrinaire concerning privatisation. The party's attitude has always been: if it works, then fine. But it seems that utilities and particularly infrastructure services such as rail are inherently unsuited to privatisation. BN says they should be brought back under public ownership to restore standards of safety and service.

MURDERED BY MULTI-RACIALISM

Last month the schoolboy gang which murdered Carl Rickard was found guilty at the Central Criminal Court and gang leader Nathan Brown was given an indeterminate sentence at Her Majesty's Pleasure. The gang modelled themselves on the triads and indeed were all of East Asian extraction with the exception of gang leader Brown. Carl was killed by the gang with machetes because of an earlier slight.

The press were almost visibly relieved when it became apparent that the oriental gang which killed Carl had a slightly older white leader which deflected attention from the question of race and culture. But just what made Brown 'wannabe' a triad? What cultural influences shaped Brown, that made him want to imitate foreign gangsters and indulge in casual murder? Crucially, what kind of system is it that says Western civilisation and culture is no better than any other?

The answer is that multi-racialism says that all cultures are equal, which is manifestly not true. The 'gangsta' culture from the USA is a case in point. Multi-racialism is directly responsible for British youngsters losing their sense of identity and following alien ways. All too often it leads to tragedy. Carl Rickard was effectively killed by the dogooders who say that all races and cultures are equal and that they can all live over here!

THE TED BUDDEN COLUMN

VENTRILOQUIST'S DUMMY

During the election campaign the Tories made the fundamental error of portraying Tony Blair as a ventriloquist's dummy sitting on Helmut Kohl's knee. Nobody believed them since everybody knows that it's President Clinton's knee upon which he roosts.

The most striking evidence of Blair reducing Britain to the role of America's faithful stooge was the killing of a Serb 'war criminal' in Bosnia by an SAS unit. The man was sitting by a stream kidnapping when he resisted an attempt to kidnap him and was shot — not a deed of great valour one might think. One might also ask why our troops are embroiled in a faraway civil conflict that is none of our business when they are prohibited from taking out IRA hoodlums since the IRA have always been our enemy and the Serbs never have.

All that is of small consequence since it served America's interests and was part of their plan to impose their political solution on the Balkans. No doubt our Tony's little chest swelled with pride at the praise lavished on his government by Richard Holbrook, America's troubleshooter (or is that troublemaker?) in the Balkans, for their loyal cooperation. In matters of foreign policy Blair and the gnomish Cook are guaranteed to be servile to America's interests. Who can forget Blair going to America to be patted on the head by Clinton as if a beloved idiot son?

He was also full of praise for the British soldiers who killed the Serb 'war criminal'. "Why", said Holbrook, "the guy actually committed suicide by refusing to give himself up to face trial at the Hague War Crimes Tribunal." Ah yes, that "war crimes tribunal", set up at American instigation to remove uncooperative Serb politicians from the scene. A bit rich this, since the Americans rank among the greatest war criminals the world has ever seen!

Everybody will remember the mortar attack on the Sarajevo market place that killed and maimed so many innocent people. This was denounced at the time as yet another Serb atrocity and was used by the Americans as justification for launching murderous air attacks against the Serbs. What very few people remember is the fact that United Nations investigators established conclusively that the mortar shell was in fact fired from the Bosnian Muslim lines. Since none of the Muslims involved have ever been indicted by the Hague War Crimes Tribunal, who can doubt American complicity in that atrocity?

In fact Clinton and Blair have a passing resemblance to the comedy ventriloquist act of the '60s — Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy. There is a difference though. Charlie McCarthy didn't have shifty eyes and Blair isn't funny.

THREE CHEERS FOR LITTLE WILLIE

Tony Blair is an astute, if unprincipled, politician. Having divined that darling Paddy Ashdown is desperate to gain some sort of political distinction, he has invited the darling boy and a few of his chums to take part in a pseudo-Cabinet sub-committee on constitutional affairs. Not that it actually means anything at all. He will simply string darling Paddy along with the prospect of, maybe, just maybe, some form of proportional representation to whet the dear boy's appetite. It won't be in the next election of course but maybe, just maybe... So the darling boy talks grandly of a new era in politics. When he speaks of cooperation rather than confrontation, our Tony knows he is on a winner. For as Tony is so fond of telling us, in his with-it, modern way, he was once the leader of a pop group. He still is. For the New Labour Party is effectively Tony and the Eunuchs, the Eunuchs being the left of the party, now seething at being effectively sidelined. Tony knows the Eunuchs will not stay quiet for ever. There will eventually be a slave revolt, perhaps when Labour inherits the next slump, and that he may well need Paddy's limp-wristed hussars to come riding to the rescue. Nice to have some insurance for next to nothing.

Meanwhile, in the Tory Party too, resentment seethes. Little Willie Hague is acting like an emperor despite the fact that everyone knows that the only reason he was elected Tory leader was because he wasn't Kenneth Clarke. He clearly believes that the road to success lies as much like Tony Blair as possible. Why bless my soul, he was in positively festive mood at the Notting Hill Carnival, only a few happy, which he was happy to describe as "Europe's greatest open air festival." Even Tony Blair, unprincipled as he is, hadn't thought of that one. He also announced his intention of "reaching out to the ethnic minorities", although Blair had not only thought of that one but had reached out and dragged them into the polling booths, thereby disenfranchising the British in many key areas. Little Willie also seeks to ape Labour by demanding that more women be selected for winnable seats, this despite the fact that most women MP's have been unmitigated disasters and that women in general dislike voting for them.

There seems little doubt that the Tories, cast down as they are by their headlong rout in the

SEX BEASTS EVADE THE LAW

It came as no surprise that two-thirds of sex offenders have failed to sign up for the so-called paedophile register. Dozens of hardened sex monsters are thought to have gone to ground by moving address and changing identity to carry out further sex attacks. When the idea was first mooted BN made the point that whatever the efficacy of a register, such a register would fail to stop further attacks, only the chemical or surgical castration of the most serious sexual offenders could do that. It now appears that the register won't even catch those that commit further attacks since those who will commit further offences have disappeared! How many more children's lives have to be ruined before government gets tough with sex criminals?

WORLD'S FOREMOST PSYCHOLOGIST DIES

Professor Hans Eysenck, the world's most controversial psychologist has died aged 81.

Eysenck wrote in 1944 General Social Attitudes in which he identified a new political spectrum other than the simplistic left-right spectrum in which he grouped fascists and communists together as tough-minded and liberals as soft-minded. After the war he set up the psychology department of the Institute of Psychiatry at the Maudsley Hospital, south London becoming professor emeritus of the University of London. It was also Eysenck who introduced the introvert/extrovert personality classifications which are standard today.

He was not only a brilliant academic, but he was also good at popularising psychology. His 1981 book Mindwatching: Why do we behave the way we do was translated into 12 languages and explained why jurors gave lighter sentences to physically attractive offenders. In 1978 his essay Why can't a woman be like a man suggested that women's positions in society were based upon biology not sociology; but it was his 1971 book Race, Intelligence and Education which followed the work of Arthur Jensen which found that the fifteen point IQ difference between blacks and whites was hereditary and not caused through the action of the environment. It is for this work that Eysenck will be chiefly remembered since it provides an understanding for the inter-racial social problems which we know today only too well.

SIR—Your leading article (April 4) urging the abolition of the Commission for Racial Equality (CRE) on civil liberty grounds understates the case. The CRE, and the 1976 Act from which it derives its powers, represent the most serious assault on the basic freedoms of association, of contract and of speech this country has known in peacetime throughout the modern era.

To further its ends the CRE has already had recourse to racial head-counting, positive action, preferential training from which majority candidates are specifically excluded, numerical targets, contract compliance and the concept of special needs defined by racial group membership. It has published codes of practice for employment, housing and education which the citizen ignores at his peril. In addition, the CRE actively seeks to extend these doctrines by having American concepts, such as that of historic disadvantage, incorporated into British law.

The CRE's vision of the good society is one in which socio-economic outcomes conform statistically to racial proportions in the general population — but only when the ethnic minorities are 'under-represented' and never when they are 'over-represented', as they are in an increasing number of areas of our national life.

This blatant inconsistency, not to say hypocrisy, is most vividly revealed in the make-up of the CRE itself: nearly 70 per cent of its employees, and 13 of its 15 commissioners, are from the ethnic minorities. This is a racial imbalance, which, in other circumstances, the CRE might well consider a fit subject for one of its formal investigations, a procedure whose findings the CRE has the legal powers to enforce — as it did in the recent inquiry into alleged 'racism' in the armed services.

There is an irony here. The Americans are showing every sign of abolishing their own equivalent of the CRE, and are now publicly acknowledging that while the state may compel public compliance, it can never enforce private assent; attempts to do so only generate the very thing — in this case racial discord — that the state is committed to preventing. After 30 years of race relations industry intervention in the Police have warned that in their view, Cooke will kill again and privately, detectives are convinced that Cooke and his gang raped and killed up to 17 other boys. Cooke is sort of dangerous pervert who will do it again, paedophile register or not.

MAN RUNS AMOK WITH SWORD

An ex-fighter pilot, Mohammed Al-Saseh, has been acquitted of the attempted murder in Manchester of two police officers with a sword. Al-Saseh, a former Syrian airforce officer had several disputes with neighbours before following Peter Homer into a house with a sword and injuring Homer's arm in an attack. Police officers were called who failed to arrest him and they called for extra help. A riot control squad dressed in helmets and padded jackets and carrying shields moved in and the sword wielding maniac slashed at their protection during which a shield was pierced. He continued to slash at officers through an open window before his arm was seized and he was overpowered. Al-Saseh claimed that he didn't know he'd cut anyone and that when police arrived he was 'frightened and confused'. No order for deportation has been made.

LABOUR MAN KILLED BY THE 'UNDER-PRIVILEGED' HE LOVED

Labour activist, 6ft 4ins, Marc Lane-Martin was stabbed to death by two muggers as he walked home from work eating a portion of chips. Lane-Martin, 30, was a well-known Labour activist who had been seen on TV with Tony Blair during the election.

Marc who was stabbed near his home in White City, West London was able to give a description of his attackers to police before he died. Readers who know White City well will not be surprised to discover that the killing, in which Marc received numerous defensive cuts on his arms before he was murdered, comes as another blow to race relations.

TO THE POINT

Or, We Couldn't Put It Better Ourselves—A selection of items in the establishment press showing opinion moving our way.

life of the individual and of society, race relations in the United States are now in a parlous condition; and an increasing number of thoughtful Americans are prepared to say so.

But where are the voices of protest in this country? And why are our politicians sleeping?

Ray Honeyford,
Letters, Daily Telegraph

By the end of this Parliament, if not before, it is possible that this project will have been completed and this [New Labour] party will closely resemble the American Democratic Party, backed by big business and with no meaningful links with the Labour Party or the Labour movement.

The British establishment has gone along with this from the very beginning and it is not hard to see why. It hopes and believes that such a party would be stronger than the Tories in dismantling the welfare state, taking Britain into the European single currency under the control of a central bank, and cutting public expenditure and wages in the name of labour flexibility and globalisation.

Tony Benn MP, The Observer.

There are 18 million people without jobs across Europe. Welfare spending is being cut back as government's budgets are strained to the limit. Any sensible person would realise that the last thing Europe needs is more people clamouring for a slice of a shrinking cake.

But the Eurocrats in Brussels live on a different planet. Immigration supremo Anita Gradin wants Turks, Algerians and Moroccans to have the right to demand work in the EU. Not just a few thousand of them — but 13 million. Let their families come too she says.

And Britain must be forced by law to take all who want to come here she insists.

We would be able to finance our hospitals more successfully if we stopped trying to run a World Health Service on a National Health Service budget.

If Britain is becoming 'a caricature of Islington council' (Mail) don't blame Labour alone. As a former detective inspector in the Greater Manchester police, I've witnessed first hand how, in the past five years, political correctness has been enthusiastically embraced by the police service (no longer called a 'force') to the point where it has become of greater importance than the investigation of crime itself.

Those responsible were liberal chief police officers, installed and manipulated by a Conservative government.

It was foolish for John Major to have said that immigration levels should not be a matter of debate. In the past five years, Britain has allowed in more than a quarter of a million immigrants.

CRIMINAL CONSPIRACY PROMOTES VIOLENCE

The criminal conspiracy among so-called 'anti-fascists' to perpetrate violence against those with whom they disagree was shown in its most pure expression on Saturday 20th September when the criminals sponsored by anti-British hate-group Suchshite and public sector union Unison attacked the wife of BNP leader John Tyndall in the street near the venue of a small meeting.

Mr. & Mrs. Tyndall who arrived unescorted at the Swan public house in Stratford were attacked by the leftist heros of the so-called Anti-Nazi League (ANAL) who sent Mrs. Tyndall flying onto the ground before putting the boot in, kicking her in the head and body. Party leader Mr. Tyndall stood over his wife in an attempt to protect her from the attack by the evil mob and suffered blows to his head and face resulting in a bloody nose, cut head and black eyes. Mrs. Tyndall, 55, is, despite her ordeal, remarkably uninjured though a little sore with some bruising.

ANAL are the group which organised a riot in Welling when they pledged to tear down the party's bookshop brick by brick. Frustrated in this endeavour they racially attacked and hospitalised a black policeman instead! ANAL is a front group for the Socialist Workers Party which has had such luminaries in its ranks as mass murderer and sex pervert Dennis Neilson. Their advocacy of violence comes as the fall of communism has seen their ideas consigned to history's dustbin.

All these sad and evil people have left now is violence.

Three people have been arrested for the vicious and cowardly attack which was made by 40-60 people upon the party Chairman and his wife.

ELECTION LOANS FUND

The General Election made very big financial demands upon the BNP and the party is financially exhausted. The party urgently needs donations to repay loans made by supporters to cover the party's big printing bills. Please send as much as you can afford to enable the party to take advantage of the increased political opportunities which are opening up with the new government.

Please make all contributions payable to 'British National Party' and send to:

PO. Box 117, Welling, Kent DA16 3DW.

Notting Hill Hypocrites

Following last month's report on the Notting Hill Carnival, several sharp eyed readers tipped off BN that the pictures of Tory leader William Hague and his girlfriend, Ffion Jenkins show that hypocrite Hague, who declared that crime was a thing of the past at the Carnival, and Ffion had removed their expensive watches before mixing it for their photo call. Not only that, Ffion seems to have removed every last bit of jewellery for the occasion.

Where's the watch William? Why no jewellery Ffion?

Not arrested was Suchshite sponsor Gerry Gable who was arrested in connection with a criminal conspiracy involving the kidnapping and beating of several nationalists at the Kensington library in 1991. The case against this convicted burglar and Jewish racist collapsed when a key prosecution witness botched his testimony which was essential for the prosecution to proceed with the trial.

Before anyone writes in to bemoan the party's security lapse, John Tyndall tells BN that he is personally fully aware of this! An enquiry is underway to determine the facts.

● Suchshite co-founder, solicitor Lewis Ruskin has been gaoled for 18 months for theft, false accounting and forgery.

WHAT DO YOU KNOW ABOUT THE EU?

Britain is paying £66 million every week into the European Union with no mandate from the electorate to do so.

By contrast, Ireland has gained £30 billion more than it has paid in. This has given Irish pensioners free travel, free TV, free phones and 20 per cent off their gas and electricity bills. Their joint pensions are worth £119 per week when the wife is aged 60, and on reaching 65 this is increased by £12.

If Parliament stopped giving our money away to the EU, we could increase the state pension by £200 per year, cut income tax by 1p in the pound and build a new school every fortnight.

Labour, Tory and Lib-Dems in their support of the EU keep silent on the issue of UK taxpayers' money going to support the bureaucratic regime in Brussels. No prizes for guessing why.

BN BRIEFING

SETTLERWATCH

Customs Officers boarding a 45ft yacht at Ramsgate, Kent discovered 25 Chinese illegal immigrants.

● In Dover, a customs dog alerted his handler to 26 illegals hiding in a lorry. All were sent back to France. later, another 22 were discovered on the same lorry! Sniffer dogs have stopped 153 illegals last month alone.

RACIST AND SEXIST

Enfield council in north London which has refused to give cash grants to the scouts because of 'sexism' has given £20,000 to Sisters in Islam, the Bangladeshi Women's Society, the Bangladesh Women's Welfare Association and the Asian Club of Enfield. No white-only groups have received any money whatsoever.

DRUGS IN GAOLS

Prisoners are to get sterilising tablets to clean and sterilise their 'works' in the slammer. The government has given the all-clear for the move 'provided that it didn't undermine the drive to stamp out drugs in prison'! Prison officials are known to be worried about the effects of dirty needles and the spread of AIDS.

HOMO—MORE IMMIGRATION!

Following the scandal of the Brazilian with AIDS and TB who was unable to be deported and cost the taxpayer £250,000 until his death a month ago, comes news that Brazilian homosexual Antonio Camara will be given leave to stay in Britain on the grounds of his 'relationship' with a British man. Stand by for the stampede!

THE 'GAY' COCK

Another 'gay' pub has opened in Kennington, South East London. Homosexuals can have a drink whilst browsing the latest queer mags placed in the bar area. The name of this sick hole? The Cock!

CHRISTIANS PERSECUTED IN BIRMINGHAM

After June BN's report of Christians being persecuted in Bradford by Muslims comes news that Christians are also being threatened in Birmingham. Christians practising open air ministry have been abused, physically intimidated and told to stay clear of the Bullring.

Letters

Write to: The Editor, British Nationalist, PO Box 117, Welling, Kent DA16 3DW.

Sir,
Your remarks (September BN) about Home Secretary Jack Straw having developed a taste for secret police repression, following being bugged himself by MI5 as a student, recall the case of the Russian communist Felix Dzerzhinsky.

Having spent years being tortured by the Tsarist secret police, his body became a mass of scars. Once in power with chums, mass murderers, Lenin and Trotsky, he set up a new secret police force — later renamed the KGB — using exactly the same methods and worse. It was Lenin who said 'better for a hundred innocent people to be killed than one enemy of the regime to go free.'

KGB specialities were 'the glove trick' where the victims hands were plunged into boiling water and the skin peeled off and rolling naked prisoners inside nail studded barrels. People might care to ponder this when next they see communists peddling their failing periodicals exalting 'socialism'.

Michael Newland,
London.

Sir,
Locally in Enfield, a labour councillor called Green is fighting to bring back two convicted drug dealers to serve their sentences in Britain instead of abroad, so they can then get to our youngsters again and ruin more lives. At the same time, a heroin haul worth £8 million was seized by police in Walthamstow. What next?

Mr. Pett,
London.

Sir,
Please accept my cheque for £12 to subscribe to British Nationalist (give the extra to the election loans fund). Keep up the good work.
Steve Whiteley,
Manchester.

Sir,
Rahul Bedi in the Daily Telegraph (19/8/97) reports that monkeys which harass people in the Indian state of Punjab are being locked up in a special jail and held until declared fit for release back into society. One was arrested at Punjab Agricultural college for assaulting a student. Another pair, arrested for handbag snatching are being considered for parole. Wildlife officials running the monkey jail say they are inundated with complaints about ruffian monkeys but don't have the power of arrest. Led by the biggest and most vicious animals in the pack, monkeys stake out their 'turf' in crowded neighbourhoods and terrorise the people, but police are hampered by the reverence with which Hindus treat monkeys. At the Institute of Medical Sciences in New Delhi, staff walk warily down passageways for fear of being set upon by monkeys concealed in niches. Institute doctors say monkeys chase doctors and nurses and patients in post operative wards sometimes come round from anaesthesia to be greeted by grinning monkeys in their beds. Interesting isn't it?

Richard Johnson,
Nottingham.

Sir,
I would like to give £25 to the election loans fund; £15 towards the cost of a new van; £10 for the Uxbridge election campaign; and £9.25 for 12 issues of British Nationalist. I am sending the most that I have ever done and I feel that I must do this since the BNP is the last chance for white survival.

Tony Morgan,
Berkshire.

Sir,
Following up enquiries received during the election has been very rewarding with a high quality of person writing in. One old chap was in an old folks home who was still concerned with the fate of our race and nation. This splendid chap aged 99 years, had served in the merchant navy in first world war bringing supplies across the Atlantic and he posed the question: "What did we fight for in the last war?" His spirit at such an advanced age is an example to us all.

David Blezzard,
Organiser, Blackpool BNP.

NEW BNP LEAFLETS

All these children would be alive today if our spineless politicians had the guts to declare war on the paedophiles

The killers of all these children were either known or convicted paedophiles — like dozens of other child-killers. How many more must die before something is done? Only when we look away the pervers who prey on our children, removing them from society completely, will our streets and playgrounds be safe again. And for paedophiles who kill their victims, the only just punishment is the rope!

MEDIA DYNAMITE!

Two new party leaflets have been drawn up to capture public support using a different style of leaflet to that used in the past. These two new leaflets are 2-sided A4 in one colour and to help promote distribution as much as possible, the party has obtained a special printing deal to keep prices very low!

The issue of paedophilia or child molesters to give them their common name is big news around the country. Sex beasts are being routinely 'outed' and demonstrations are occurring against them. This is the leaflet to set the topic alight and give any BNP branch almost

THEME-PARK BRITAIN

How 'politically correct' townies are killing our country

ANOTHER farmhouse lies derelict, either to fall down or to become a yuppie weekend cottage. Yet another family swallowed up in the city, while more and more farms every year are taken over by City speculators, while village schools, pubs and shops become holiday homes. Rural Britain has been systematically neglected and depopulated by a system based on city 'values' and short-term greed. What has this got to do with Field Sports? Everything!

Our masters in Westminster and the media have forgotten that a healthy countryside is the backbone of a nation. Their only concern is to preserve a few pretty bits as a summer theme park and tourist trap. The idea of a rural Britain which stands on its own feet, which has its own industries, traditions and sports actually frightens our urban masters, because it doesn't need them. They need our taxes, but rural Britain doesn't need the parasites in parliament. Whitehall and the TV studios. But people who don't need their 'help' make these power-junkies uneasy. That's why they love the 'under-privileged, multi-racial inner-cities, and it's why they hate the real people of rural Britain.

That's the real reason for their attack on country sports. Animal 'welfare' doesn't come into it. If it did, they'd do something about the scandal of halal and kosher ritual slaughter, whereby hundreds of thousands of animals every year are slowly bled to death without any pre-stunning in ways which would land any other slaughterer in prison. But the Labour Party and most 'animal welfare' fanatics turn a blind eye to this 'religious' savagery, just as they ignore the huge numbers of lambs taken by foxes and badgers. After all, cuddly foxes are politically correct, whereas native Britons, and our traditions and livelihoods don't count. We only built this country, we only pay the taxes — so we don't count!

As a matter of fact, the masters of urbanised Britain don't give a damn about foxes either. If they did, they wouldn't be so keen to condemn them to slow death by poison, habitat-destruction and gangrene from bullet wounds (where are they going to find 'marksmen' in a country where they've outlawed target shooting?). What they really care about is destroying our identity, our sense of belonging, our nationhood. To hundreds of thousands of Britons, their sense of identity is intricately bound up with hunting or other field sports — that's why they're the latest target.

That's also why weather forecasters don't use temperatures which actually mean something any more. That's why you can't buy pre-packed potatoes by the pound any more. That's why the county regiments have been amalgamated out of existence. That's why our kids come home from school knowing more about 'colonial exploitation' in Africa than about our own history. That's why TV soaps portray homosexual perversion as acceptable, even preferable. That's why our cities (because British people there are targets too) have been filled with hideous tower blocks and with strangers from every part of the globe. That's why our political and economic freedoms are being submerged in a European super-state. That's why they won't leave anything alone.

What we are facing is the organised destruction of our identity and freedoms by an out-of-touch but immensely powerful political and media elite. It can only be stopped, let alone reversed, when large numbers of ordinary Britons unite and organise to resist and reverse the process — when we British organise to take back control of our own country. That's the purpose of the British National Party.

guaranteed publicity with the party's strong, yet popular stance of advocating capital punishment for the sex monsters.

The other new A4 leaflet offered is the new Countryside leaflet, looked at in August BN, and which is more appropriate for rural areas since it is aimed at country folk. In this leaflet, the point is made that the country folk are under attack just as are the townies.

The party spells out its policies to regenerate the countryside, provide jobs and maintain the rural way of life.

Both leaflets are price £10 per thousand with postal charges of £6.40/1,000 and £8.55/2,000.

Because of the 'hassle-free' nature of both of these leaflets they are particularly suitable for isolated individuals who wish to leaflet their communities and get the word out where it may never have been heard before.

To assist that, prices on smaller quantities are as follows: £5.00/500 plus £5.15 p&p; £2.50/250 plus £2.50 p&p; £1.00/100 plus 95p p&p.

NEW AUDIO TAPE

The first of a new series of audio-tapes produced by the British National Party. It consists of two recorded studio talks by BNP Chairman John Tyndall. These are: The BNP: a movement for the new century — an exposition of the main BNP policies; and Time For Action! — a summons to the lazy and apathetic to stir themselves and get involved. £6.00 plus 36p p&p.

VICTORY IN NORWAY

Another 'far right' party has made an astonishing leap forward in what is a victory for nationalists everywhere. The Progress Party astounded observers four years ago to win 6.3% in their last General Election, but last month they nearly trebled their poll to take 17.1% of the vote to make them Norway's second largest party after Labour. Liberals are particularly alarmed that this major breakthrough has occurred at a time of economic prosperity and not in depression which they usually associate with nationalists rising from obscurity.

Awash with oil wealth, Labour leaders wanted to save for a rainy day, but the Progress Party advocated increased spending. Party leader Mr. Hagen said: "We are the new caretakers of the working class. Labour have deserted the welfare state." [This sounds familiar — Ed.] Another party leader said: "We advocate a fairly restrictive immigration policy. In that sense we are similar to Le Pen." It was these two themes which won the PP their huge following. After the election, The Independent conceded that the idea of Hagen coming to power was no longer inconceivable.

It's possible that Hagen isn't a genuine nationalist. Indeed, he seems not to be, yet he has adopted the view that immigration hasn't benefitted other countries, so there's no good reason for Norway, which doesn't yet have much immigration to speak of, to be swamped with problems either. It's a pragmatic view if not an ideological one. It doesn't produce a genuine nationalist state, but it does at least keep immigrants out.

Nevertheless, the result has been a big shock all round. Before the election

ISRAEL

Daniel Okev, the former Israeli army officer who murdered Briton Max Hunter and shot his girl friend in the Negev desert has claimed that he was temporarily insane at the time brought on by traumatising from the time he commanded a death squad which specialised in killing Palestinian trouble makers in Gaza between 1970 and 1973.

● In a surprising development, the wife of murdered Israeli Premier Rabin said that to reach a settlement with the Palestinians, Israelis would have to confront their own terrorist past. The terrorism of the Irgun Zwi Leumi and Stern gangs which murdered hundreds and also produced several Israeli Premiers including Yitzhak Shamir and Menachem Begin has been largely swept under the carpet.

● Also in Israel Yaakov Schwartz faked his own kidnapping to "unify" Israelis in anger and deepen their resolve to combat terrorism. Abandoning his car near Gaza, he skulked in Tel Aviv while Israel launched a massive search for him. Later he sneaked back to Gaza and claimed that he had escaped his kidnappers and was almost killed. Israeli police soon nailed the lie and charges are expected. This episode recalls the desecration of Jewish cemeteries in Israel and Europe. In Israel the perpetrators are 'Arabs' and in Europe 'Fascists' or 'anti-Semites'. A number of Jewish perpetrators have nevertheless been caught!

FOREIGN NEWS

the people were told that to vote PP, genuine nationalists or not, was to vote for the ideas of Le Pen — but huge numbers did so anyway. The Scandinavians have always been renowned for their tolerance and liberal attitudes. If they can vote for a PP described by their media as 'far right', there is no reason why voters cannot do so in Britain.

FRANCE

The Front National controlled town of Vitrolles, captured only in February is saving taxpayers money by refusing to subsidise various ethnic bodies and is returning the town to its French heritage by renaming the town's streets and squares after Frenchmen and women instead of the politically correct leftists and foreigners the French have had to suffer thus far. Out goes the Avenue François Mitterrand, reverting to its old name of Avenue du Marseille; out goes the Place Nelson Mandella which becomes the Place du Provence; and out goes Dulcie-September Square [after an ANC politician] to be renamed after Marguerite de Provence, a 13th Century Queen of France. Also out are place names honouring Olaf Palme and Salvador Allende, Presidents of Sweden and Chile as well as Avenue Jean-Marie Tjibaou, renamed Avenue Jean-Pierre Stirbois after the Front National's former number two who died in a car crash. Bruno Megrét, the FN's current number two and husband of Vitrolles Mayor Catherine said he preferred to honour the memory of Stirbois than that of "the agitator and Kanak terrorist Tjibaou." [From the French Pacific territories — Ed] Also in comes Mother Teresa (honoured instead of Allende) as well as the Place des Ségobriges after a Celtic tribe of the area.

Mssr. Megrét said the changes were being brought in to "reaffirm Vitrolles Provençal and French identity." He went on: "These people are more representative of the values Vitrolles should espouse: heroism, patriotism and humanitarianism."

● Still in Israel, anti-Semitism is alive and well as Semitic Sephardi Jews flee the country in response to the racism they face from Ashkenazi Jews, a Turkic derived people who migrated to Europe.

Sephardi Jews have fled to neighbouring Arab states including the new Palestinian Authority, claiming political asylum. The Ashkenazi controlled press has shown its anti-Semitism by smearing Sephardi Jews as traitors.

Shlomo Buzit, 28, said: "It is racism pure and simple." He and his Sephardi friends are at the bottom of the social pile while racist Ashkenazis get all the well paid jobs. "It is as if you have two trees," he said. "One you water and look after, the other you give nothing, only stones. Then is it a surprise that one bears fruit and the other nothing. For fifty years we have had nothing but stones... In Israel, the press shows all Palestinians to be terrorists. Now that we are here, we feel more at home than back in Israel." This feeling is not surprising since both groups are Semites — unlike the cuckoo Ashkenazis!

MIDLANDS BNP STAGE KEY MEETINGS

COVENTRY

Coventry & Warwickshire group of the BNP held its inaugural meeting with a very keen crowd anxious to be up and running for the party in Coventry. The new group is pledged to build the party by recruiting more members and drawing in those people interested in the Coventry & Warwicks. area who have never had a nearby branch or group before. The new group in Coventry is symbolic of the party's growth and expansion in a number of key areas which are fertile ground for the party and its message.

The meeting was chaired by Regional Organiser Keith Axon and support for the new group from neighbouring areas was shown in the presence of a number of activists and Organisers from the East and West Midlands.

Group Organiser, Mark Payne gave the meeting an encouraging report on progress so far and East Midlands Regional Organiser, John Peacock gave an excellent speech on the task facing the party in the country as a whole before a short literature sales break and collection which along with the raffle raised £92. Not bad for a first outing!

TYNDALL IN MIDLANDS

Two highly successful meetings in the Midlands at the end of September concluded a series of nationwide speaking tours by British National Party leader John Tyndall spread over the past two months. The main purpose of these meetings has been to enable Mr. Tyndall to meet and speak to the many new members and interested enquirers the party has attracted as a result of the general election, in which it was able to make two five-minute broadcasts on TV and radio.

NOTTINGHAM

At a meeting on September 26th near Nottingham organised by the party's East Midlands Region, the BNP leader spoke to an audience of about 50 people. He said that anyone looking about Britain today could be forgiven for thinking the country had gone completely insane. He cited local authorities lavishing taxpayers' money on sexual pervers; the British Tourist Authority being ashamed of the Union flag; the Government sitting down and negotiating with the allies of the IRA; and British troops being sent to former Yugoslavia while our forces were being trimmed to the bone on grounds of financial stringency.

Though the BNP remained, as yet, a small minority party, Tyndall said, its opportunity would surely come before long as the established political system was totally dysfunctional and bound to self-destruct. One great cause for optimism, he continued, was the political demise of the Tories, which left a complete vacuum in British politics which could be filled by a radical nationalist movement similar to those which had emerged to eminence on the Continent.

He spoke of the biggest barrier to mass support now being fear — a fear similar to that felt by opponents of the Soviet system a short time before the latter's collapse. The BNP, he concluded, needed to fight this fear by its members setting an example in courage — which in politics, as in war, could be infectious. We owed it to our war heroes, he said, to conquer fear and fight on to build the 'Land fit for Heroes' for which they fought and died.

BIRMINGHAM

The following day, Mr. Tyndall spoke to an audience of nearly 80 near Birmingham, organised by the party's West Midlands Region. His themes were similar to those of the previous meeting but he added a tribute to a great man of the Midlands, Joseph Chamberlain, who as Mayor of Birmingham and later in national government pioneered political ideas which should serve as an inspiration to the BNP. With suitable updating to take account of new times, he said, Chamberlain's Tariff Reform policies could help to rebuild Britain's lost industrial power.

JOHN TYNDALL IN BIRMINGHAM

WEST COUNTRY DAY OF ACTION

At the end of August, just too late to be reported upon in last months BN, West Country and London activists descended on the Newlyn Fish Festival for a day of action in the town.

Local fishermen are up in arms that Labour have sold them out and are to enforce the EU diktat that Britain's fishing fleet must cut its catch by 30%. Meanwhile the problem of subsidised Spanish quota hoppers remains completely unaddressed.

It was the aim of the BNP team to show that only a BNP government could be relied upon to guarantee the rights of British fishermen to fish in British waters, protected if necessary by the Royal Navy.

In the morning, the group leafleted a local housing estate with 'Defend Britain's Fishermen' and 'Theme Park Britain' leaflets as well as the new anti-Paedophile leaflet produced by Bristol branch. Local residents gave the leafleting team a friendly response throughout.

Later, the team attended the Fish Festival handing out the pro-Fishermen's leaflet to fishermen and tourists alike from all over the UK. One local woman selling cornish crafts approached the team for a bundle of leaflets to give out to her friends and relatives.

All in all, more than 3,000 leaflets were handed out. Copies of British Nationalist met with an overwhelmingly positive and supportive response from all. As with the mass leafleting of the Countryside rally in Hyde Park, the day of action in Cornwall proved again that the party is not just a single issue party confined to the inner cities, but is committed to the struggle of all of our people in the troubles besetting them, including fishermen and their coastal communities.

After the success of the day's activities, the BNP team retired to a traditional Cornish pub decorated with Union & Cornish flags as well as Canadian flags to demonstrate solidarity with fisherfolk over there.

Members of Bristol BNP were also busy on their way home following up a number of election enquiries stemming from the General Election.

Congratulations to all those activists on a good day's work!

HYSTERICS IN HARTLEPOOL

It took just one keen BNP activist leafletting to drive Mail reporter Peter McCusker into a frenzy last month. McCusker twisted (and wet) his knickers with the headline 'Drive out these racists'. Yet elsewhere he conceded that the leaflets concerned: 'Hang Child Murderers' and 'Surrender on the Right' do not even mention race! He found support from one old communist who said: "They shouldn't be allowed to hand out this sort of stuff." This quote, however, was an own goal. BN has written to the Mail suggesting that this hate-filled individual clear off to China where his intolerance might be more appreciated. As the police said: "This kind of campaigning is legitimate." And in case McCusker missed it, the BNP stood 56 candidates the length and breadth of the country back in May saving a number of deposits. One moment he described the leaflets as not overtly racist. Yet the next, the excitable McCusker described them as 'racist filth'! But then McCusker the moron made a whole string of errors: The BNP was formed in 1982, not 1992; Derek Beackon was elected in 1993, not 1992;

The party's Website is alive and well and not at all dead (see page 3); The BNP is not a 'Nazi' group, nor is it 'Fascist' — the BNP was alone at the last election in its manifesto calling for Bill of Rights to guarantee freedom of speech; Nor does the BNP have a position on the 'Holocaust'. In line with its free speech ideals what the BNP does say, is that it, along with anything else, should be freely debated without fear of imprisonment like some run-down banana republic or Germany. In the meantime, congratulations to one smartly-dressed young man!

DRIVE OUT THESE RACISTS

A LEAFLET campaign by the British National Party in Hartlepool has been greeted with shock and disgust in the town.

The leaflets, which were handed out by a BNP activist, were described as 'racist filth' by the local press. The leaflets were found to contain a number of errors, including the claim that the BNP was formed in 1992, when it was actually formed in 1982.

The BNP has denied the allegations and said that the leaflets were a 'hoax'.

DEVOLUTION CAMPAIGNS

As all BN readers will know, the devolution campaign waged by the government has been successful. Scotland and Wales BNP issued specialised leaflets arguing against devolution, with Welsh activists in particular making an effort to leaflet as many homes as possible (leaflet shown right). Following this campaign and a local meeting, it is hoped that Wales BNP will now be reformed.

BRANCH AND GROUP REVIEW

The branch and group review has now been completed and the results are shown on page 7. A number of groups have made branch status and these include Rossendale & East Lancs, Newham, Mansfield, Stoke and Bradford. Two branches have been demoted to group status and these are: Manchester and Hounslow & Hillingdon (the latter because of the loss of the Organiser who has moved). At the same time, two other groups which may make branch status are under an extended review and these are: Todmorden and the new Bexley & Dartford group.

BNP WOOS LOYALISTS

South Birmingham BNP confirmed themselves as one of the busiest of the party's groups when half-a-dozen stalwarts set off from the heart of Brum to attend a Loyalist parade in Portsmouth.

Marching along side by side with other patriots concerned for our countrymen in Ulster, the BNP lads made their presence felt by dishing out hundreds of leaflets on the thousand strong parade. A friendly reception was had by the BNP team and upon finishing

WELSH ASSEMBLY?

Another pack of parasites.

VOTE 'NO!'

LABOUR'S proposed 'Welsh Assembly' is a con! It has got nothing to do with 'making government more accountable and honest,' nothing to do with 'protecting the Welsh identity and our jobs,' and nothing to do with 'freedom'. Just look at the reality behind the pretty slogans:-

'Accountability and honesty' — The proposed parliament would be a well-paid talking shop and jobs-for-the-boys club for Labour and Plaid Cymru time-servers; no-one else would get a look-in. It would become a retirement home for the South Wales Labour mafia, who would spend their time squabbling with the BNP's North Wales bloc on whose pet projects should get the money left over after they'd filled their own pockets. So vote 'yes' if you want to pay even more tax to another pack of self-serving parasites.

'Protecting the Welsh identity and jobs' — That's what Plaid Cymru claim to stand for, but they've got a strange way of going about it. All the parties campaigning for the Assembly are in favour of even more immigration and of preferential treatment for ethnic minorities. And they're all committed to 'economic globalisation' — a fancy way of saying that Welsh workers and companies should have to compete with foreign imports from the low-wage Far East. So vote 'yes' if you think Somali immigrants become Welsh if they can say 'diolch' for their new council houses, and if you want your job to go to Korea.

'Freedom' — All the 'yes' campaigners are in favour of us staying in the European Union. Yet EU membership has already virtually destroyed our coal, steel and fishing industries, with farming next on the list. The Eurocrats support federalist tricks like the Assembly, not because they intend to give away power, but as a way to break up Britain and to tighten their grip on us all. It's not a stepping stone on the road to freedom, but a milestone on the motorway to a United States of Europe. The real choice isn't between Cardiff and Westminster, but between an elected all-British parliament and EU dictatorship. So vote 'yes' if you want to be ruled by Brussels, with a glorified parish council in Cardiff.

The BNP leaflet arguing against the Welsh assembly.

the march, all the loyalists descended en masse upon a number of welcoming hostilities. Sitting outside in the warm sunshine enjoying a well-earned beer, the BNP team set out forty copies of British Nationalist on a table. Passing loyalists snapped up the papers very quickly so that the BNP team was soon sold out.

What we stand for

- The establishment of a government of national unity that will put an end to nationally divisive party warfare; the return of leadership and statesmanship to British affairs.
- An end to immigration and a start to repatriation.
- British withdrawal from the European Community; trade with Europe where it suits us but no political ties.
- The disbanding of the multi-racial Commonwealth and its replacement by a new Commonwealth of self-governing white states.
- British ownership and control of British industry and resources.
- Protection of British industry by the selective exclusion of foreign manufactured goods from the British market.
- An end to the financial swindle that causes inflation and slump, and its replacement by a sane and fair financial system that will give the people the purchasing power to buy the goods they produce.
- The subordination of the power of the City to the power of Government, and the harnessing of the City to the needs of British industry.
- The regeneration of British farming, with the object of achieving the maximum self-sufficiency in food; also the restoration of the fishing industry by protection of our traditional fishing grounds.
- A healthy environment for a healthy people — the protection of our countryside and an end to the architectural disfigurement of our towns and cities.
- Tougher treatment of criminals, including the return of the death penalty.
- A return to traditional methods of education, with stronger discipline in the classroom and the sacking of 'trendy' teachers.
- An alternative defence strategy: withdrawal from NATO; closure of all foreign military and air bases in Britain; British withdrawal from the war in former Yugoslavia, where no British interest is at stake; the bringing home of British forces from Germany; the strengthening of Britain's defences and a position of armed neutrality.
- An end to overseas aid and the allocation of the money saved to the financing of repatriation and greater help for the needy at home.
- The crushing of the IRA, the termination of the Anglo-Irish agreement and firm support for the loyalist majority in Northern Ireland.
- A return to healthy moral values aimed at strengthening the family and community.
